Visas

A citizen of a foreign country who wishes to enter the United States must first obtain a visa, either a nonimmigrant visa for temporary stay, or an immigrant visa for permanent residence. The visa allows a foreign citizen, to travel to the United States port-of entry and request permission of the U.S. immigration inspector to enter the U.S. The "visitor" visa is a nonimmigrant visa for persons desiring to enter the United States temporarily for business (B-1), for pleasure or medical treatment (B-2), or combination of both (B-1/B-2) purposes.

Please visit US State Department to determine if you need to obtain a visa:

Dining:

Where to Eat Tonight: <https://sf.eater.com/maps/best-restaurants-san-francisco-38>

San Francisco is the birthplace of sourdough bread, and you find pungent, chewy loaves of it everywhere, particularly along Fisherman's Wharf. You also find moderately priced California wines just about everywhere -- thanks to the proximity of the Napa and Sonoma valleys, to the north.

This historical diversity has helped to create a city of adventurous diners and has kept chefs here busy inventing fare to satisfy their demanding clientele. The now-famous California cuisine, an ephemeral term that generally implies full-flavored dishes consisting of fresh, usually organic produce and meats and drawing inspiration from both European and Asian cookery, is a hallmark of that drive.

Local Attractions:

1. Alcatraz: Alcatraz Island, located in the middle of San Francisco bay, is an infamous federal penitentiary.
2. Golden Gate Bridge: Stretching 4,200 feet and towering as high as a 65-story building, this well-known bridge is the gateway to San Francisco.
3. Chinatown: Chinatown is an electric neighborhood of 100,000 people. Get a taste of Hong Kong's present and past with its authentic markets and fantastic restaurants.
4. Fisherman's Wharf: Fisherman's Wharf is known for its historic waterfront, delicious seafood, spectacular sights and unique shopping. The area offers some of the most incredible views of the San Francisco Bay, the Golden Gate Bridge and the cityscape.
5. Haight-Ashbury: At the center of the hippie culture of the 1960s, this trendy neighborhood now consists of upscale boutiques, Internet cafes and hip restaurants.
6. Golden Gate National Recreation Area: Golden Gate is the largest urban national park in the world, containing 74,000 acres of land and water.
7. The Exploratorium: The Exploratorium is a collage of hundreds of science, art and human perception exhibits.

8. Presidio National Park: For 218 years, the Presidio served as an army post for three nations. It is now a national park with almost 1,500 acres of hiking and biking trails, beautiful beaches and stunning views.

9. Union Square: Union Square is one of San Francisco's main retail and cultural centers featuring everything from upscale department stores and boutiques to discount houses.

10. Pier 39: Pier 39, the third most visited attraction in the U.S., offers several waterfront attractions including dining, shopping, live entertainment and sea lions.
